

Nilima Buch is a distinguished lyric-dramatic soprano, dancer-actor, and music educator residing in New Delhi. She holds certifications of excellence in Hindustani vocal music, Western classical voice, and choral singing, demonstrating her interdisciplinary expertise across both Indian and Western classical traditions.

Her artistry was recently recognized by maestro Zubin Mehta, who praised her “bright and expressive voice” during auditions for an operatic role at the National Centre for the Performing Arts (NCPA), Mumbai. Nilima has performed with prominent choirs in major Indian cities like Mumbai, New Delhi, Chennai, Bangalore, Pune, and Ahmedabad. Ms. Buch has played lead roles in various grand operas, pocket opera and zarzuelas enabling her proficiency in almost eleven languages.

Her passion towards learning reflects in her pursuit of courses in music business management, a Diplôme de Langue in French, and a theatre appreciation course at the prestigious National School of Drama in India.

Nilima Buch conducts workshops for a diverse range of learners, from aspiring music students to seasoned connoisseurs. She actively contributes to music education through her role as a peripatetic voice teacher for secondary school students at The British School in New Delhi.

Ms. Buch is committed to strengthening the India Chapter network among educators, with the aim of fostering collaborative learning through the exchange of ideas and experiences.
